Height

When fitting a junior bridesmaid, a key factor is the height of the girl, especially her torso (bodice) length.

Always choose a size that has the closest hollow to waist or back neck to waist measurement. Then compare her bust and waist measurements to our size chart. Be extra careful when you are fitting a girl who appears to be below or above average size for her age. In some situations, you may need to consider custom ordering the dress to make the dress fit.

Custom Measurements

Custom measurements are available for Junior Sizes. Please refer to "Special Services" for details and pricing.

Jasmine gowns are handmade, a difference of +/- 1/2" in the manufacturer's body and length measurements is acceptable.
